

PRESENT ONE JOHN WITH LOVING CUP

Members of Richmond Bar Remember Venerable Justice's Sixty-Ninth Birthday.

SPEECH BY CAPTAIN GUIGON

Long Service on Bench Called to Mind in Fine Tribute Paid by Lawyers.

In celebration of his sixty-ninth birthday several members of the Richmond bar yesterday morning presented Justice John Jeter Crutchfield with a handsome loving cup, and conveyed to him their wishes for many happy returns of the day. The presentation was made by Captain A. B. Guigon, and it was replete with terms of praise for the "upright judge." The cup bears this inscription: "To the Honorable John J. Crutchfield, Police Justice of the City of Richmond. A Tribute of Affection and Esteem from some of his friends of the Richmond Bar." On the other side was inscribed: "1888—An Upright Judge—1913."

A written memorial of the occasion was placed in the criminal docket at the end of the cases for the day, occupying a whole page by itself. Perhaps some future historian, in searching through the records of the city, will come across it one day, and find in it copy for a monograph on the One John.

The presentation was made soon after Justice Crutchfield ascended the bench. Attorney Gilbert K. Pollock interrupted him, asking the pleasure of a moment's hearing on a subject strictly private. Justice Crutchfield granted the favor, and then Captain Guigon stepped forward with the cup and the speech.

The One John, affected by the remembrance, replied, haltingly, and expressed his appreciation.

Among those who were present on the occasion were Captain Guigon, Attorneys Pollock, H. M. Smith, Jr., L. O. Wendenburg, Harold S. Bloomberg, George Wise and Commonwealth's Attorney Minotree Folkes.

Crutchfield's Memorial.
The tribute to Justice Crutchfield follows:

"Some of your friends of the Richmond bar have come to-day to tender their affectionate greetings on this anniversary of your birth, and to pay respectful tribute to a quarter of a century spent in the service of this community. For twenty-five years you have sat on this bench and dispensed evenhanded justice to rich and poor, and high and low, alike—without fear and without favor. For a quarter of a century you have upheld law and order and have kept in check the criminal and lawless elements of this progressive city. For this long period you have been a terror to evildoers, while at the same time you have listened with patience to the wrangling of litigants and the pleadings of the unfortunate and distressed; and as the years came and went they have given you the wisdom of added experience and have taught you to temper justice with mercy.

"Though your daily duties have brought you into closest contact with the seamy side of life, you have come through it all unsmirched and without reproach, and with your cheerful optimism undimmed and undiminished.

"Stern and unyielding in the protection of the people from lawlessness and crime, you have never forgotten to sympathize with the errors of youth or failed to give that 'one more chance' which may mean repentance, reformation and redemption.

"And of late it seems to us the crowning glory of your career has come to you when you are called upon, meliorated and softened by the passing of the years, to preside over that glorious product of modern civilization, the Juvenile Court, where childhood is shielded from the rigors of the law and is taught the lesson of upright and useful manhood and womanhood.

"In all these years of arduous duty faithfully performed, you have earned and you have received the gratitude, respect and the affection of this community, which we, as lawyers who have been closely associated with you and know your trials and your achievements, undertake to-day to voice. We offer you our heartiest congratulations and the loving cup of good cheer for you and yours."

PLAN SCHOOL DEDICATION

Congressman Montague and Dr. Freeman to be Principal Speakers.
Final arrangements were perfected yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the Oak Grove Civic League for the dedication exercises which will mark the formal opening of the new school Saturday afternoon. An excellent program has been arranged, which will be delivered by the Blue Band, Congressman A. J. Montague and Dr. Douglas Freeman will be the principal speakers.

At the beginning of its session the league presented a handsome piano to the new school. Resolutions were passed asking the School Board to make several needed improvements to the building. Fire escapes are wanted in order that the danger from fire may be lessened. A request was made that the basement, which is covered with wood flooring, be lined with cement. The board was also asked to see that the doors were made to open outward, and that the gratings to the windows be made heavier. The school will open for its regular session to-morrow morning, with Miss Marion DuVal as principal. As there has been some delay in installing the desks, the teachers will probably be handicapped somewhat. The new Swansboro School will also begin its session to-morrow. Miss Bessie Vaden will again be principal.

The two schools were erected at a cost of $40,000, raised by a special bond issue. They are built of brick, and are modern throughout. Both are eight-room structures, the Swansboro School being slightly larger. The following program will be followed at the dedication exercises of the Oak Grove School: selection by Blue Band, prayer, address by R. C. Stearnes, Superintendent of Public Instruction, song, "America," presentation of seven Bibles to the school by Dr. Freeman, on behalf of the four fraternal orders of Swansboro; receiving of Bibles by Rev. D. G. Lancaster, band selection, presentation of flag and metallic emblem of Virginia by Thomas B. Ivey, of the Junior Order United American Mechanics; speech of acceptance by Rev. J. H. Eggleston, pastor of Ashbury Methodist Church; school ode, sung by children; address by Congressman A. J. Montague, song and benediction.

Mr. Lowman Resigns Chairmanship.
After serving efficiently for some time in his office, Robert G. Lowman yesterday resigned the position of chairman of the Oak Grove Civic League. B. T. Barker was appointed as his successor.

COUNTY SCHOOLS OPEN

All Pupils of Chesterfield Will be Enrolled Within Ten Days.
About half of the public schools of Chesterfield County have already opened, and all pupils will have settled down to the year's work within the next ten days. The schools of Swansboro, Oak Grove and Beach were delayed in their opening because furniture was not in place. These three schools will begin their regular session to-morrow.
Matoca, Swift Creek, Ettrick, Falling Creek, Enon, Midlothian and Beulah high and graded schools opened last Monday with a good enrollment. The one-room schools in Bermuda, Manchester and Midlothian Districts also started their session last Monday.
In Clover Hill District, all the schools will open on October 1. The graded schools in Matoca District will begin to register pupils on the first Monday in October.
Several new buildings are being erected in the county, which will be completed in time for the next term. At Beach the pupils will enter an excellent four-room building, which is equipped with modern improvements. It was provided through the efforts of the Dale District School Board, with the liberal assistance of the patrons.

Funeral of Mr. Jackson.
The funeral services of William H. Jackson, eighty-four years old, who died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sarah A. Crowder, 523 West Eleventh Street, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the home of Mrs. Crowder. Rev. Frank W. Long, pastor of Cowardin Avenue Christian Church, will conduct the services. The burial will be in Maury Cemetery. Mr. Jackson is survived by a brother, William T. Jackson, and one sister.

In Southside Churches.
Revival services will be continued this week in Central Methodist Church, much interest being taken in them. Rev. G. A. Klein will preach this morning on the subject "Why Our Prayers Are Not Answered." A special meeting for men only will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock.
An all-day meeting will be held to-

In the home of Mrs. Charles T. Jones, 1424 Porter Street, on Friday night promises to be a unique entertainment. Roman ideas will be the scheme of decoration. There will be a gypsy camp in each room, which will be presided over by young women in Arab costume. Funds derived from the sale of refreshments will be turned over to the building fund of Meade Memorial Episcopal Church.

SANITY TO BE INQUIRED INTO.

New York Man in Asheville Wants Police Force and Mayor Dismissed.
Asheville, N. C., September 20.—W. V. Lyons, claiming to be from New York, and displaying plenty of money, was taken into custody this afternoon at the request of relatives, and is being held pending an inquiry into his sanity. Lyons came here about two weeks ago to visit his sister, Mrs. Sam Novich. While here he bought several valuable pieces of property, for which he paid. Last night he publicly criticized officials of the city, declaring his intention of removing the present Mayor and stopping publication of the newspapers. To-day he had cards printed and hired boys to distribute them, declaring at the same time his intention of dismissing the whole police force. Members of the force, at the request of relatives, took him into custody.

PROMINENT MEN APPOINTED TO JUDGE BOOKLOVERS' CONTEST

The Great $1,200 Game Will be Supervised by Men of Integrity.
These are the men who will take charge of the task of culling out the winners of The Times-Dispatch's great Booklovers' Contest:

Hon. Geo. Ainslie, Mayor of Richmond.
Rev. Edward N. Callach, Ph. D., a distinguished scholar and writer.
W. L. Prince, dean of Richmond Academy.

The characters of these well-known citizens are surely enough that the checking of sets will be done accurately and well.
First of all, the judges will receive the list of correct titles into their personal charge. This list will be turned over to them by officials of the bank, where it is now under lock and key. The list will be certified to by the judges, and delivered later on to those who will do the actual labor of checking.

Of course, The Times-Dispatch itself will spare no efforts to make sure of a reliable check, and the most elaborate precautions will be taken to see that no possibility of error or anything worse may occur. You may say that the dozen safeguards thrown around the checking of the sets are too many, but this newspaper believes in making sure a dozen times that everything in connection with the contest is as it should be. That has been the course followed from the first.

You have been told of the way the sets will be received, stamped with the official stamp, and placed in the locked and guarded room, from which they will be removed one by one to be checked. The checking itself will be done over three times, to avoid chance of error. And finally the judges themselves, who will have had charge of the entire checking process, will go over the sets to see that the awards are made correctly.

You will be able to see the checkingoing on, for the public will be invited to come to the checking-room and watch the contest staff at work on the sets. But you will have to watch from a slight distance away, of course. Understand that the judges will have personal charge of this contest.

Jett, who resigned after twenty years' service. Mr. Jett will become head of a school for boys to be established by the Episcopal Church, near Lynchburg.
